Tents

Event Rentals offers several tent rental options depending on your unique needs. Sizes range from 6' x 10' to 60' x 220'. Please call for pricing.

Frame Tents

Frame tents are supported by an aluminum interior framework and do not require the tension of ropes and stakes. Frame tents are perfect for concrete and asphalt installations or where driving stakes into the ground is not an option. Fabric liners and leg drapes can be installed on frame tents to create a beautiful interior that is perfect for weddings and elegant events. Frame tents can be joined together with rain gutters to create a custom grouping of tents that can fill any space. Frame tents come in 6', 9', 10', 15', 20', 30', 40', and 50' widths in both white and clear tops. Water barrels, instead of stakes, can be used to secure the frame tents when needed.

High Peak Tents

High Peak tents combine the versatility of a frame tent with the peaked look of a pole tent. High Peak tents use aluminum framework around the perimeter and legs with cables that hold up the center pole. Like regular frame tents, these tents can work on grass, concrete, or asphalt. High Peak tents even work great in gymnasiums or large buildings. High Peak tents come in 10', 15', 20', and 30' widths.

Pole Tents

Pole tents are the traditional peaked tents. They utilize center poles which support the main weight of the tent. Ropes or ratchet straps are placed around the perimeter and secured with stakes to create tension and to pull the tent into shape. The tent design between center poles is typically straight with some "swoop" between the tent peaks. Pole tents come in 30', 40' and 60' widths. These tents must be staked and are best suited for grass applications. They can be installed on asphalt, but holes must be drilled into the asphalt.

Marquee Tents

Marquee tents are typically used as a walk way entrance tent and are priced in 6x10' and 9'x10' sections.

Event Rentals carries a wide variety of tents and accessories. As each event is unique, please call for a specialized quote of your tent needs. Prices subject to change.
